STAMP RALLY CARD

+1 Disco Elysium Obsession
+1 Artist Alley Navigation

This flyer can be used to locate six Disco Elysium fanartists tabling at MCM London. The thin pages smell vaguely of Monster Energy.

NOTE! Look at the MAP page in the flyer to see which artists you can visit for a stamp.

TASKS:

You squint at the rally card, recognising the names of artists scattered around the Excel Centre.

A purchase at these stalls will net you a stamp, and a step closer towards your tantalising prize.

Once all six stamps are obtained, a prize pack can be collected from either SmugComputer or from Pippin Truman.

All of these locations have been marked on your MAP for easy access; MCM is hard enough to navigate without a pressing investigation like this one on your hands.

Stay strong, detective, and try not to get impaled by any stray katanas.

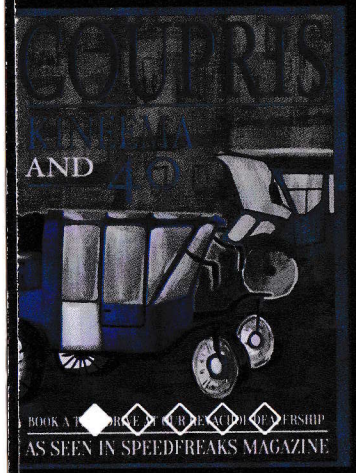
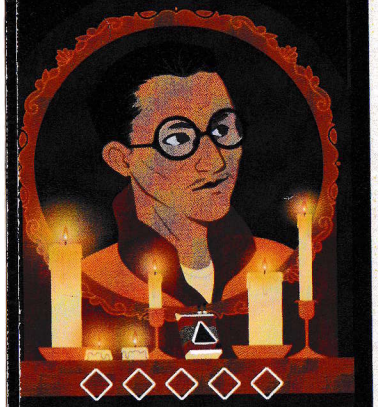
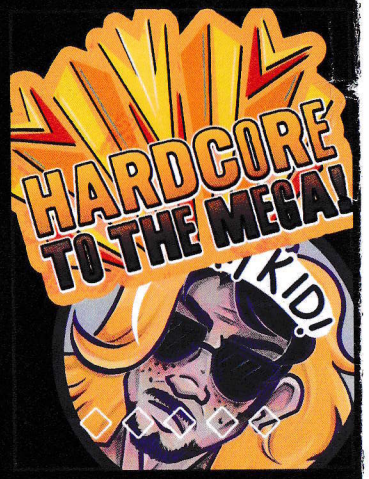
PRIZES

Your tote bag is a fine enough container for your artist alley haul, but you find the contents sorely lacking: An empty container of pocky, several flyers, and a slightly leaking bottle of Lucozade. Where is the merchandise for your favourite isometric RPG? Where is the painful interrogation of modern and historic semi-fictional politics? Where is the lovingly rendered portrait of Lieutenant Kim Kitsuragi?

This is all the evidence you need that the Disco Elysium stamp rally is priority numéro un in your investigation of MCM London. Also, you should get more pocky.







This stampcard is only for use at MCM London May 2025

In the unlikely event that we run out of prizes, your address can be taken upon completion of the stampcard to post the prize to you after the event.
